- Richwine announced the hiring of Maja Switzer, city of Tempe Arts Administrator.

- Richwine stated that the Friends of TCA played host to a successful fundraiser on July 4 at the TCA.
- Richwine reported that the TCA Theater played host to a funeral service for Arizona State University (ASU) and Arizona Diamondbacks baseball personality Bob Eger.
- Richwine announced that a TCA Gift Shop Proposal has been submitted for consideration.
- Richwine stated that she did not have any information to report regarding the development west of the TCA.
- Richwine announced that Mary Fowler, Cultural Services Division Management Assistant, submitted four projects to the Valley Forward Environmental Excellence Awards for consideration. The submissions are as follows:
 - Tempe Center for the Arts
 - Buildings and Structures: Public Assembly
 - Art in Public Places
 - Site Development
 - Mitchell School
 - Buildings and Structures: Historic Preservation
- Richwine reported that the TCA Reflecting Pool will be closed for repairs July 17 through August 1. Richwine stated that a sealant is being administered to the art piece.
- Richard Strange inquired about the construction process for visual artist Laurie Lundquist's pedestrian bridge. Paul Hubbell inquired about the Tempe Town Lake Dam maintenance; Hubbell expressed concern that the dam maintenance will possibly interfere with the pedestrian bridge construction process.

Agenda Item 4 – Chairperson's Report

- Hubbell introduced and welcomed new TMAC member Judy Ellison; Ellison was appointed to the commission in May.
- Hubbell reported that an article written by Walt Lockley in the July issue of Desert Living Magazine addresses integrated modular shade structures in the city of Tempe light rail stations. Hubbell stated that the article has a side bar of information criticizing the design of the shade structures.

Agenda Item 5 – New Business

- No new business.

Agenda Item 6a – Public Art/AIPD Committee

- Shirlee King distributed information to the Public Art/AIPD Committee regarding color and text updates to Mary Lucking's proposed Hudson Park art pieces; King stated that Lucking's work will surround the park's meditation labyrinth. King added that the Public Art/AIPD Committee recommends the approval of Lucking's proposed art pieces.

MOTION: Kate Hanley moved to approve the proposed Hudson Park artwork as presented.

SECOND: Lisa Morley seconded.

DECISION: Hudson Park artwork approved.
- King presented the commission with a maquette from visual artist David Brant in regards to his proposed Tempe Gateway AIPD element titled, "Progression of Transportation (rusted steel images locked into seating walls).” King stated that Brant’s piece will display the following:

- An eight to ten foot pair of walking legs
- A cowboy on horseback
- A bicycle
- A pair of over-scaled aluminum elements (fender, hood ornaments, vehicle, leg hitting brake pedal)
- Three large aluminum fins

- King stated that the Public Art/AIPD Committee recommends the approval of Brant’s proposed AIPD piece.
- Lagman added that the developer, Opus, is prepared to provide additional funding for Brant’s AIPD element; Lagman stated that the required amount is $91,362 and the total amount of the project is $106,200.
